A-Z Sophisticated Solutions was founded by Ana Maria Marin in 2010. Ms. Marin started this company by leveraging her previous 12 yrs experience providing similar services while employed at a Fortune 1000 company and her M.S. & B.S Plastics Engineering degrees. A-Z Sophisticated Solutions provides a unique market combination of Engineering, Technical Writing, Technical Instruction and written Translation services.

Services:

- Technical Writing: brochures, user manuals, editorial.
- Technical Instruction: plastics seminars & CAE plastics simulation.
- Translation: English/Spanish documentation & video close caption.

Industry Differentiators:

- Very few competitor technical writing, instructional design & information design companies have technical engineering degrees & engineering experience like our staff.
- Unlike our company, none of our competitors can claim participation in the development of current Autodesk® Simulation Moldflow® training curriculum and certification programs.
- Thorough Spanish & English bilingual oral & written fluency among highly technical subjects while delivering training and creating written content.
- Our instructors are subject matter experts (SME) that apply proven techniques for effective adult learning. We have the ability to effectively teach courses consisting of diversified educational audience background literacy in CAE, plastics and computer knowledge.

Our clients include:

- Northeastern University. Center for High-rate Nanomanufacturing.
- Iowa State University
- NowAccount
- Rand Worldwide
- SolidCAD Solutions
